

House Resolution No. 795

Whereas, sportsmanship and community service are values respected throughout Missouri; and

Whereas, the Central Missouri Eagles youth hockey teams perform community service that sets a positive example; and

Whereas, the Eagles Mite and Squirt teams collected more than 1,200 children's books for the needy children served by the Health Department Clinics in the six counties where Eagles players live; and

Whereas, the Eagles Varsity and Junior Varsity teams aided the sick and injured children at the University of Missouri Children's Hospital by collecting more than five hundred stuffed animals from fans, and then by visiting the young patients to distribute the toys; and

Whereas, the Eagles raised contributions for the annual Tom Henke Charity Auction to benefit the Special Learning Center and juvenile diabetes research, and for the U.S. Fund for UNICEF to help aid child victims of the devastating tsunamis in Asia; and

Whereas, the Eagles received the Leadership and Humanitarian Contribution Award, presented by the Kansas City Metro Area High School Hockey League for public service projects that benefitted the community and the less fortunate; and

Whereas, the Eagles, led by their parents and coaches, maintained the highest standards of sportsmanship and fair play throughout the season:

Now, therefore, be it resolved that we, the members of the Missouri House of Representatives, Ninety-third General Assembly, join unanimously in recognizing the Central Missouri Eagles youth hockey players and their families for their solid citizenship; and

Be it further resolved that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for Eagles head coaches Fitz Fitzgerald, Ken Hoerchler, and Craig McGonagle; and for Glenda Fry, President of the Jefferson City Parks and Recreation Commission.
